Christmas Hymn.

Our Savior came! Our Christ was born! High hallelujahs sing! O blessed night! O blissful morn! Let all earth's altars ring!

Father, for this we bless Thy name, O make our hearts sincere. Low in the dust to hide their shame, Thy children now appear.

Like mountains, Lord, Thy mercies are, Thy love in oceans rolls. Then watch us with Thy tend'rest care, And save our sinful souls.

One son, just released from the Missouri penitentiary, is reported to be on the point of returning home. If he does, it is said he will meet the fate of his brothers. The other son is said to be an honest man. The daughter is represented as a prepossessing young woman. On being admitted to see the dead bodies of her brothers, she after an outburst of grief, dried her eyes with her handkerchief, then place ed it over the face of her brother William, who to the last declared his innocence; then she kneeled beside the dead man and laid her left hand over his heart, and raising her right one toward heaven, she took this terrible oath: "Oh, my poor murdered brother, may God curse your sister if she avenge not your death, terribly and
